FOREWORD

This began as a record of the Baker and Bassett families. It quickly became apparent why almost everyone in Providence was called "cousin" and the only way to understand how people were related was to write down names of members of other families, too. The intention here is not to present a complete record of any of the families, but rather to record the inter-relationships of these people who were kin and who lived within a small area for much of the nineteenth century. The material about these families is far from complete and though a sincere effort has been made to have it correct, no doubt errors are present.

The information about these families has come from many sources: census records, marriage records, wills, deeds, vital statistics, cemetery records, newspaper clippings, the 1940 Providence Enterprise Centennial Edition and books about local history and about individual families. I am especially indebted to those people who shared family records, including those of Blanche Mitchell Barnhill, Amelia Givens Sugg Givens, Sallie F. Hill, W. Garnett Johnson, Fannie Bassett Price, Pearl Baker Sugg, Emma Sue Williams and Rachel Whittinghill Withers and many others. Many, many other people have furnished information about their own families and have answered any number of questions. Their patience and kindness is greatly appreciated. I am most grateful to the late John Bassett Price who was my ever-willing consultant and mentor.

Most of all I am indebted to my husband, William Kerr Bassett, who is my claim to Webster County. He has always been most helpful, encouraging and patient. Too, I am most grateful to Patricia Randle Gillespie for her encouragement, help and the tremendous task of indexing over seven thousand names.

In order to trace a lineage, find the name and the page number in the index. To find the next older generation, omit the last numeral in the family number, which precedes the name. A child is numbered by using his father's (or mother's) number plus his own order of birth. When there are ten or more children, the double digit number is set off by a period. To eliminate duplication, later generations have not been listed in some families. The numbering system and space-saving abbreviations are simple. I trust readers will be charitable.

INTRODUCTION

Long before there was a Webster County, settlers began coming to the western part of Kentucky. Kentucky became a state in 1792 and Henderson County was formed from Christian County in 1799. Red Banks had been a recognized stopping point on the Ohio River since 1765 when the river was first navigated past what is now Henderson. The town was permanently settled in 1784. Land warrants for service during the Revolutionary War began to be issued by Virginia about 1783 for bounty lands in the district of Kentucky below the Green River. William Jenkins is likely one of the first into the area with a military land warrant. William Givens and Eleazar Givens were also among the earliest to settle here. to have turned off the extension of the old Natchez Trace, sometimes called the Red Banks Trail, about 38 miles south of Henderson. William settled on land near the trail and Eleazar went a few miles farther west and settled on the Tradewater River. One historian says they had come north from Fort Nashboro in Tennessee and another says they came from Clark's Creek, near present Danville, Kentucky, where Samuel Givens had established Given's Station about 1780.

After 1800, the earliest pioneers began to be joined by ever increasing numbers of relatives, friends and strangers from the east - mostly from Virginia and North Carolina. By 1806 Hopkins County was formed from Henderson County because of the rapidly growing population. Robert Robertson was at Red Banks by 1797 and is said to have been the first surveyor in what became Hopkins County. The two dozen pioneer families that are included in this compilation arrived early in the nineteenth century and records about them can be found in Christian, Henderson, Hopkins, Union, Caldwell, Crittenden and Livingston Counties.

Many pioneers migrated in groups and came to join relatives and friends who had sent back encouraging word of their new homes. There are two groups of particular significance: those from Bertie County, North Carolina, and those from Augusta County, Virginia.

What is now Bertie County, North Carolina, was on the first map drawn of North Carolina in 1585. It was at the head of Albemarle Sound and on the waters of the Chowan River. The first settlement on the Chowan River, in 1655, was by settlers from Virginia who were of Scottish, English and Scotch-Irish descent. The rich bottom land of the area's rivers attracted new families and Bertie County was formed from Chowan County in 1722. The earliest land grants and deeds show many of the same names that were common in Kentucky many years later: Baker, Early, Godwin, Hunter, Jenkins, Johnson, Mitchell, Nichols, Parker, Rice, Skinner, Stallings, Williams, Williford, Wynn, etc.

Three items selected at random from Bertie County Court House Minutes are: "August Court 1774. Proved a deed from Richard Williford to Josiah Nicholas (sic) in open court by the oath of James Early one of the subscribing witnesses." "Nov. 1774. Ordered that Josiah Stallings, the orphan of Jacob Stallings, deceased, aged about ten years, be bound and apprenticed to James Jenkins to learn the Trade of a Cart Wheelwright." "August 1779.

Ordered that Robert Jinkins (sic), Aron Askew and Shadrack Early be appointed Patrollers in Capt. Watkins William Wynn's District."

A Jenkins may have been the first from Bertie County to come to what is now Webster County, but James Baker and a group of friends and relatives were here by about 1803. They may have included the Jenkins, Parkers, Rices, Williams, Willifords and Wynns. In the summer and fall of 1808 another group of 50 or 60 people came to join them. This group was led by Noah Nichols and possibly included the Earlys, Johnsons, Mitchells, Prices and others. Despite the great distances and with a horse being the best means of transportation, there was some traveling back and forth between Kentucky and North Carolina. For instance, Irwin Price is said to have gone back to North Carolina and married Nancy Holder in 1817 and Edward Rice and Macy Nichols rode horseback to North Carolina on their honeymoon in 1825.

The Scots who had gone to Northern Ireland had offended both the Irish Catholics and the Church of England and when they migrated to Pennsylvania the Quakers and German people also disliked them and refused to sell them land. The Valley of Virginia had been a hunting ground for the Indians when the Scotch-Irish began to settle there. In 1735-40 the Givens, Poages and Robertsons came to then Orange County, now Augusta County, Virginia. From the first, the laws of Virginia and the established church were oppressive so these Covenanters started their own churches. After the church at Tinkling Springs was organized they organized another church and a pole building eleven miles north at Fort Defiance, Virginia, was erected on land John Poage had patented. This later became the Old Stone Meeting House. Timber Ridge was another early church attended by the Allens, Christians, Givens, Kerrs, Montgomerys, Poages and Robertsons. The first Presbyterian marriage was in 1781. Prior children of other than Church of England weddings were declared "bastards" and "conceived in sin."

By 1780 Samuel Givens was in Lincoln County, Kentucky, and by 1790 other Givens relatives and friends from Augusta County, Virginia, and some Givens of Mecklenburg County, North Carolina, had joined him in central Kentucky. It was only a few years later that some of them began to go farther west to what is now Webster County.

The Bassetts and Stouts left Hunterdon County, New Jersey, in 1790, crossed Pennsylvania, and came down the Ohio River with General Symmes' party. The Bassetts stopped at Limestone, now Maysville, which was the staging area for the Symmes group, most of whom continued down the Ohio River to found what is now Cincinnati, Ohio. While living in Mason and Bracken Counties, Kentucky, the Bassetts' neighbors were members of the Blackerby, O'Rear and Pearl families who had come from Prince William and Fauquier Counties, Virginia, with military land grants. Some of the Bassetts and Pearls came to Hopkins County in 1841.

The Barnhills came from No. Carolina to Henry Co., Tennessee, in 1836 and on to Hopkins County, Kentucky, the next year.

William Cunningham received several military land grants for his services in the Revolutionary War. He sold the warrant for land in Ohio, which included the site of the present state capitol. William and his family left Cumberland County, Virginia, and settled in Sumner, now Smith, County, Tennessee soon after 1790. His grandson married a Payne, daughter of Cornelius Payne who left Pittsylvania County, Virginia, before 1820 and lived in Bedford and then Maury County, Tennessee. The Cunninghams and Paynes came to Hopkins County, Kentucky, about 1852.

Peter Lisman and his wife, Elizabeth, came from the Palatinate of Germany in 1785 to Philadelphia and were in Jefferson County, Kentucky, by 1800. Their son, John, was born in Indiana and came to Henderson County, Kentucky, in 1810. His wife, Martha Jane Cavanah, was the daughter of David Cavanah, who patented land in Christian County, Kentucky, in 1800.

Most of these Webster County families were of English, Scottish, Scotch-Irish and Welch descent. However, some of them had married into French Huguenot families: the Michaux, the O'Rears, the Nevils, etc. The Givens may have been French Huguenots. But all of these families had been Anglicized by having lived in Britain before coming to the colonies.

Most of these families were either Presbyterian or Baptist. One of the early churches was Mt. Ephraim Church in Union County, Kentucky, on Cypress Creek. It was located on an old camp meeting site and some of the early cabin holders were Miles Baker, James Price, Jesse Skinner, James Wallace, Andrew Thompson and Andrew McGill. Rev. Walter William Wynn was the preacher. The Rice brothers had established their first trading post at Belleville on the Tradewater River but because of the swampy land and unhealthy climate, they moved after a few years to Shiloh (Lisman). The Shiloh Presbyterian Church was organized under a shed in 1843 by Edward Rice, W. T. Baker, W. C. Lisman, Axion Skinner, T. W. Price, Edward Booth, J. O. Price and M. E. Lisman. Edward Rice gave the land forthe church and the cemetery. Rose Creek Church, south of Providence, was another early Presbyterian Church. It was organized by Rev. Hugh Bone before 1820 and some of the early ministers were Rev. James Johnson, Rev. Hugh Hill, Rev. W. William Wynn and Rev. J. L. Price.

One of the early Baptist churches was Grove Creek Church, north of Providence, which was organized in the early 1800s by Rev. John Dorris. He also organized a church in Providence and a large log building was erected before 1820. Rev. Dorris was its paster until the denominational split about 1834. The Primitive Baptist group moved to Old Baptist Hill with Rev. Dorris and the Missionary Baptist group was under the leadership of Rev. Timothy Sisk, who married the widow of Eleazar Given. Some of the Baptist families were the Bassetts, Cunninghams, Gists, Givens, Nichols and Paynes.

Some of the early communities were Belleville, Shiloh, Claysville, Nebo and Providence. Richard Savage bought land from William Jenkins and established a trading post at what is now Providence - the hill-top site was first known as Buzzard's Roost. In July 1838 both Richard Savage and Daniel Head were granted licenses to operate taverns in their homes. Providence was incorporated as a town in 1840 and as the years passed, became the largest town in the county and hub of the trading area. Noah Nichols also operated a tavern in his home at the intersection of the Madisonville-Sturgis and the Princeton-Henderson roads.

The Barnhills, Bassetts, Cunninghams, Givens and Paynes lived southeast of Providence in Hopkins County and the Bakers, Jenkins, Nichols and Prices lived north of town - some in Hopkins County and some in neighboring Henderson and Union Counties. By 1860 the increased population necessitated the formation of a new county and Webster was formed from parts of Hopkins, Henderson and Union Counties. On 2 March 1860 an act to authorize the running and marking the boundary lines of the County of Webster was passed and signed by D. Meriweather, Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Thos. P. Porter, Speaker of the Senate, and approved by B. Magoffin, Governor of Kentucky.

By 24 March 1860 the lines for the new county had been drawn and the site of Dixon, the county seat, had been selected. Those signing the declaration were C. C. Buckman, Commissioner, and James Baker, Daniel Baker, John Prather, Lewis Oakley, Samuel Oakley, Wesley Skinner, Lynn Walker, John McMullen, Isaac Stephens, - Talley and James Piland. By 14 May 1860 the boundaries of the voting districts and the voting places were established with those signing as follows: Henderson District, Petersburg, by J. R. Edwards, J. J. Hicks, W. E. Scheffer and M. G. Simmons; Town District, Dixon, by George A. Powell, Charlie F. Wallace, M. W. Morris and J. M. Baker; Slaughtersville District, Slaughtersville, by Richard Johnson, Richard Lanville, F. Hardin and Smith Roach; Vandersburg District, Vandersburg, names not legible; Claysville District, Claysville, by Joseph - , Washington Cook, James N. Evans and B. P. Wallace; and Providence District, Providence, by J. B. Barnhill, J. Jennings, A. Dorris and T. Givens. All the foregoing election districts were also approved by the Commissioners, N. N. Johnson, Thomas K. Newman and R. K. Thornberry.

During this period of American history, farming was the leading industry and so it was with these early settlers. The land was plentiful and productive and crops for the sustenance of the individual families were the mainstay of most farmers. Those who followed trades such as cabinet maker, blacksmith, cooper, tavern keeper or even minister or school teacher, farmed some land to feed his own family. It was toward the end of the century when tobacco became a large crop, resulting in less diversified farming and more tobacco-related jobs. Then, too, mining of coal increased and by the twentieth century, it was a large industry in the area. However, for the most part, our early families were farmers.

The one upheaval that most affected this group of people was the Civil War. In an area that was bitterly torn between North and South, there was naturally a difference of sentiment among these families. Some sons fought for the Union but more fought for the Confederacy. Even more, however, were non-combatants. Some men who were not regular soldiers gathered from time to time and formed raiding parties. After a few days of active campaigning they would dissolve their units and go back home and devote their time to domestic chores until they were needed again. The Givens farm southeast of Providence was a rendezvous point for raiders with Southern sympathies. Gen. Adam (Stovepipe) Johnson, originally from Henderson, organized a group called, The Partisan Rangers, and many men from Webster County rode with him on his daring raids. J. C. Tapp was an officer in the Confederate Army and used what is now Big Hill Cemetery as a look-out when his company was encamped nearby.

In an agrarian society with limited means of transportation, the families who had come to Webster County early in the century continued to live here with little disruption until the coming of the twentieth century and World War I. Their churches continued to be a general meeting place and the center of their social life. This is where the young folk met, courted and married the only friends they knew, albeit they were related or had mutual relatives. Thus the many fascinating and complicated kinships resulted among some Webster County, Kentucky, families.

BAKER

As Bertie County, NC, was settled mostly by people from Virginia, our Bakers may have come from Isle of Wight Co., Virginia. A Henry Baker was deeded land in Bertie County, NC, in 1725. From February Court, 1736, Bertie County: "Simon Homes to William Baker and James Baker, 10 Dec 1735, 9 pounds for 50 acres on Snob Branch to William Baker and afterwards to his son James Baker, his heirs." The name Baker is found in many records of Bertie County, NC, for the remainder of the eighteenth century.

James Baker and his family came to Christian County, Ky, soon after 1800 and they may have lived there a few years. He bought 200 acres on Richland Creek, Henderson Co., Ky, in 1804 and is on the Tax Roll of 1807 with 400 acres. Only Miles is known to have been his son. Richard, Elijah and Andrew may have been his sons also. Richard, born by 1770, married 27 Jun 1787 Betsey Baker in Bertie Co., NC. It is likely the same Richard Baker who was a witness in 1808 in Henderson Co., Ky, and who was accused of selling whiskey without a license in 1812. He specified in his will that after the death of his wife, his property was to go to his nephew, Richard James Baker, son of Elijah J. Baker.

BASSETT

The first Bassett to the colonies was William Bassett who came to Massachusetts in 1621 on the ship FORTUNE but another William Bassett, who came to Lynn, Ma, in 1635 when he was 11 years old on the ship ABIGAIL, is the more likely ancestor of our Bassetts. Because of the Salem witchcraft trials and persecution of Quakers, a number of Quakers, including some Bassett families who had become Quakers in Massachusetts, moved with Fenwick's Colony to Salem, NJ, just prior to 1700. The names of the parents and the birth-place of John Bassett are not known.

John Bassett ( -1776 Hunterdon Co., NJ) was in Hunterdon County, NJ, by 1753 and his name appears often in court records. Trenton was then the county seat. His will was dated 21 May 1776, and named his sons, William, John and Isaac Bassett, as executors. The appraised value of his personal property as of 31 May 1781 was £ 80-12-6. Amos is the only one mentioned as a minor and he was to be put to a trade of his choosing and his legacy to be managed for him until he was 21. The estate, real and personal, was to be sold and divided among his children as indicated below.

- 1. William Bassett ( -c1788 Hunterdon Co.,NJ) to receive one-seventh of father's estate. His brothers, John Bassett, Jr. and Isaac Bassett were administrators of his estate, bond dated 15 Jan 1788.
- 2. John Bassett, Jr. to receive one-seventh of father's estate. He m Sabrina Ray and went to western Pa. in 1790 with Amos Bassett and the Stouts but returned to NJ. Later he came to Brown Co., Ohio, across the Ohio River from Bracken Co., Ky, and members of that Bassett family still live in Brown County.
- 3. Isaac Bassett to receive one-seventh of father's estate.
- 4. Elijah Bassett to receive one-seventh of father's estate.
- 5. Jeremiah Bassett to receive one-seventh of father's estate. He served in the Rev. War.
- 6. Martha Bassett to receive one cow plus one-seventh of father's estate.
- 7. Anne Bassett to receive five shillings frock money.
- 8. Margaret Bassett to receive five shillings frock money.
- 9. Jamimma Bassett to receive seven pounds yearly for five years.
- 10. Amos Bassett (c1760 West Creek, NJ-1832 Cynthania, Ky) m 1789 Susan Stout (c1769-1844), dau of David Stout and Sarah Parke. From his father, Amos received one horse plus one-seventh of his estate.

- 2. Christopher Cunningham (1710-1782) m Susanna Patton, lived Shenandoah and Augusta Cos., VA, Washington Co., NC and later Tennessee. They had 16 ch, one of whom was Moses Cunningham (1774-) who m Greene Co., TN to Margaret Long
- 3. Alexander Cunningham m Easter Mary Michaux, dau of Abraham Michaux and Susanne Rochet. On 17 Mar 1746 he sold 400 acres of land on the south side of the James River in Goochland Co., VA. On 28 Aug 1746 he purchased 348 acres on Little Mountain Creek in then Amelia, now Prince Edward, Co., VA. His will, dated 21 Feb 1778, was proved in Prince Edward Co., VA in Nov of that year.

Easter Mary Michaux was of French Huguenot descent. After the Revocation of the Edict of Nantes in 1685, Moses Rochet tried to get his youngest daughter, Susanne, to Amsterdam, Holland, where many Protestant refugees had fled to escape persecution and death. Two of his daughters had fled across the border from Sedan, France, and had been kindly received by the Dutch people. They wrote their father to send their little sister to them, but fearing that their letters might fall into the hands of enemies of the Huguenots, they asked him to send "the little nightcap" they had left behind.

After several unsuccessful attempts to get little Susanne out of France, her father arranged to have her shipped in a large cask and placed aboard ship. After the ship was safely at sea, a friendly sea captain opened the cask and Susanne was lifted out and later safely delivered to her sisters. Susanne later married Abraham Michaux, also a refugee from Sedan, and in 1701 they followed their friend, William of Orange, to England.

William and Mary gave a grant of 10,000 acres of land 18 miles west of Richmond, VA, on the James River to the Huguenots and Abraham and Susanne came to Virginia in 1703. Abraham had made gauze and Susanne had made lace and by frugal economy, they were able to pay passage to Virginia for themselves and six children. Susanne was always called "Little Nightcap." Their youngest child, Easter Mary, was born in Virginia and she and Alexander Cunningham had 10 ch.

GIVENS

Of all the families, the Givens are possibly the most challenging to trace. Most Givens families were large and the given names were repeated so most families had a James, John, George, Robert, Mary, Jane, Margaret, etc. The relationship of the Webster County families quickly became complicated when six Robertson girls (two sets of three sisters who were cousins) married six Givens men, brothers or cousins. From one of these marriages, three Given (descendants of Eleazar Given are spelled without the "s" to differentiate) sisters married three Givens brothers. From one of these Given-Givens marriages, three sisters married two Rice brothers and a Rice cousin. There were also other marriages between members of the Givens families. The name has been spelled Givan, Given, Givin, all with and without an "s", and sometimes with two "v"s and even Givings and Givhon, though it is most often Givens.

Because of the paucity of source material, it is difficult to identify the members of the early families. Censuses of Virginia and Kentucky were burned for the years 1790 and 1800 and there are no early tax records for Augusta County, VA. Augusta County was formed from Orange County, VA, in 1745 and later Botetourt (1769), Rockbridge (1778) and Bath (1790) Counties were formed from Augusta. There are a few wills but even when the children are named, the duplication of given names makes certainty difficult. The same is true of marriage records.

The Revolutionary War Pension Records answer some questions but leave most unanswered. The records of members who have joined the D. A. R. and named a Givens ancestor as patriot are not consistent. There seems to be no unanimity of opinion about the early Givens families. The following information comes from a variety of sources. Though the primary purpose of this book is to show how Webster County, KY, families are kin to each other, this section is also intended to present various opinions about early Givens history. Readers are "given" leave to reach their own conclusions.

The Rev. Richard Givens was born 4 Mar 1634 in Dunkirk, France, and died in 1692 in Northumberland County, VA. He married Amy Lewis on 3 Jun 1668. He is said to have gone to England about 1685 and to have left Scotland in 1688 for Virginia. Their children were James, Caleb, Abigail, Joshua, Mercy, George and John. Caleb, born 1673, married 1691 Mary Donan. Rev. Richard Given's brother, James, came to Virginia in 1790 and another brother, Thomas Caleb, who married Nora McDonald, came from Petershead, Scotland, to Yorkville, SC, in 1702.

There was a Hugh Givens, born in Glasgow, Scotland, who came to the colonies and brought his sons, Andrew and George. A Samuel Givens was in Somerset Co., MD, in 1709 and a Samuel Givens was in the Cumberland Valley in 1734. In 1742 George Givens was granted 400 acres on the north side of the James River in Orange County, VA. George Givens had a son, Daniel (c1745-1822), who m Martha Camden. George was said to be the son of Rev. Richard Givens. In 1744 Robert Givens was in the Calfpasture River area north of the forks of the James River. In 1744 Samuel Givens was probably living south of the James River. The relationship of the above Givens men is not known.

Edward Givens, Sr. went to the Catawba Valley of North Carolina about 1748 and settled on Davidson's Creek. He is thought to have had brothers, James and John. These three men may have been nephews of Samuel Givens (1693-1740). In 1757 Edward sold land on Davidson's Creek to John, Eleazar Given's father. Some say Eleazar's father, John Givens (1727-1794) was the son of Caleb, who married Mary Donan, and if not the son of Caleb, at least the grandson of Rev. Richard Givens. But it may be that his father, John, was the grandson of Samuel Givens, Sr. (1653-1711 Ireland) and the son of (Thomas?), the brother of Samuel (1693-1740) who came to Orange County, VA, in 1739.

The Givens of Livingston County, KY, were kin to Eleazar, who died in Smithland, KY, in 1833. One theory is that they were descended from Rev. Richard Given's brother, Thomas Caleb, referred to earlier. His son, James Richard Givens, was said to be the grandfather of Hon. Dickson Givens, who came to Salem and later Smithland, KY. Dickson's wife was Nancy Davis, daughter of Rev. Richard Davis, an early magistrate of Hopkins County. Another theory is that Eleazar's brother, John Givens, was the father of the Dickson Givens who married Nancy Davis. In addition to John Thompson Givens and William Douglass Givens (see pages 50-53) one genealogist believes that John Givens and Mary Thompson had these children: Joseph R. (c1782-1833 Livingston Co.,KY); Stanley B. (c1783-c1786); Dickson (1784- ) m Nancy Davis; Thomas R. (Aug 1786- ) m 1805 Rachel Jones; Ted (?) (1793- ) m Martha; and George (1802- ). John Givens went to Posey Co., IN with his son, Thomas R., and died there.

The following Samuel Givens was the grandfather of Thomas Givens who came to what is now Webster County, KY. He may have been the son of a Samuel Givens, Sr. who was born in 1653 and died in 1711 in Northern Ireland.

Samuel Givens (1693 County Antrim, Ireland-22 Oct 1740 Augusta Co.,VA) m 1718 Sarah Cathey (c1701 County Antrim, Ireland -between 1765-69). He imported to Orange Co., VA in 1739. He bought 311 acre Beverly Manor and was one of the founders of the Old Stone Church in present Augusta Co.,VA. In his will, recorded in Orange Co., VA on 28 May 1741, he left 1420 acres of land to his sons. The importation record and the will named his nine older children. George was born posthumously. Sarah married 2nd Rev. Robert Allen.

1. John Givens (1719 County Antrim Ire.-19 Nov 1790 Augusta Co.,VA) may have m 1st c1739 Margaret Crawford and m 2nd 1745 Mary Margaret Sitlington (1729-1799), dau of Robert Sitlington and Mary (Polly) Feamster. Polly was the dau of Thomas and Elizabeth Feamster. John's will was proved April 1790 Augusta Co.,VA, and named his wife, Margaret, and 10 children.

11. John Givens (May 1740-13 Nov 1812) m Jean Robertson, dau of William Robertson. He was Capt. under Gen. Lewis and later Major in Campbell's Brigade under Lafayette. He was in the battles of Guilford Courthouse and Yorktown. He was Capt. of a Company of Virginia Militia from 1779 to 1782 and George, James, James, Jr., Robert, William and possibly others.

In the 1790 North Carolina Census for Mecklenburg County there were 6 Givens listed: Edward, John, Sr., John, Jr., John Rutherford, Samuel and William. Robert Givens was in Guilford Co., NC. Samuel and George Givens were in Lincoln Co., KY by 1780. In the 1790 Kentucky Census for Lincoln County there were three James Givens, two Robert Givens and John Givens. By 1800 both North Carolina and Virginia Givens were living in Lincoln, Fayette, Mercer, Bourbon and other counties in Kentucky. By 1820 there were 35 Givens families living in Kentucky. In Hopkins County there were Eleazar, James and John Gi-vens, born in North Carolina, and Thomas and William Givens, born in Virginia.

William Givens (18 May 1762 Augusta Co., VA-2 Feb 1847 Union Co.KY) was the son of John and Margaret Givens. He m 9 Mar 1789 Rebecca Kenney (17 Sep 1771-1820 Hopkins Co., KY), dau of Matthew Kenney. During the Revolutionary War William enlisted in 1781 as Pvt. in the Company of his brother, Capt. John Givens, under Gen. Green. He hauled provisions to the troops at Yorktown. He moved to Fayette Co., KY in 1789, then to Bourbon Co. and in 1810 to Hopkins Co., KY. He moved to Union Co., KY about 1845. William Givens' brother, Thomas, came to Hopkins County from Virginia after having visited another brother, Samuel, in Bourbon Co., KY. His group of friends and family arrived at William's home the night of the earthquake that formed Reelfoot Lake, 16 Dec 1811. The tremors that followed for several weeks so frightened some of the people that they returned to Virginia. The children of William and Rebecca were:

Did William Givens and Rebecca Kenney also have a son named Matthew Givens?

Several family stories have come down through the years which are likely correct. One says that Eleazar Given came from North Carolina, and after stopping for some years in central Kentucky, he and his wife, Jane Robertson, came overland to Hopkins County. Thomas Givens and his wife, Betsey Kerr, came from Virginia and came down the Ohio River. It was said that Eleazar spelled his name Given and that Eleazar and Thomas were related. (Thomas and Eleazar were sons of different John Givens; Thomas' grandfather was almost certainly Samuel Givens but Eleazar's grandfather is not known.) The charts of the Eleazar Given and Thomas Givens families which follow begin with family names as recalled by Mrs. Amelia Givens, born about 1855 to John Wier Givens and Judith N. B. Wier, and a descendant of several of the pioneer families of Webster County.

   essee boys sent old Gen. Packinham back to England in a keg of rum" and then she would cackle with glee.

JENKINS

Members of the Jenkins family were in Bertie County, NC, as early as 1723. Eighteenth century land records for that county contain many entries under the name Jenkins. A William Jenkins was with Christopher Gist in his exploration of the Ohio Valley and it was a William Jenkins, who had been in charge of the arsenal at Yorktown, who received one of the first military land warrants in what was to become Webster County. Land warrants for service during the Revolutionary War began to be issued by Virginia about 1783 for bounty lands in the district of Kentucky below the Green River. site of Providence is on land bought by Richard Savage from William Jenkins when Savage established the first trading post. William Jenkins is said to have been captured by a band of Indians. They learned to love him and to keep him from being scalped by rival bands, they kept his hair plucked out. After his release he built a log house hostelry or inn that served weary travelers in the crude fashion of those frontier days. Meals of game, pork, corn pone and hominy and corn shuck mattresses with no more than four to the bed were the rule of the day. A William Jenkins died in Claysville, Ky. It is not known if he was the father of the following three Jenkins men or if they were brothers.

JOHNSON

Family tradition is that five Johnson brothers and two Johnson sisters came to western Kentucky from North Carolina. Whether or not they were accompanied by one, or both, of their parents has not been determined. They possibly came with the Nichols-Early-Price group of about 50 or 60 people, probably about 1812, as John and Robert are on the Tax Rolls of Hopkins County, Ky., in 1815. By 1821 there had been in Hopkins County a John, James, Robert, Samuel and Isaac Johnson. Whether or not they were brothers has not been proved. The 1821 Tax List of James Johnson shows property on Clear Creek in Hopkins County and on Livingston Creek in Caldwell County.

John and James Johnson were both born in North Carolina and the father of John is known to have been named James Johnson. John's wife and the 2nd wife of James were double-first cousins - their Nichols fathers were brothers and their Godwin mothers were sisters. James' lst wife, Sarah Phillips, had a sister, Ansey Phillips, who married Benjamin Johnson of Union County. Benjamin's family lived in Union County and James and John were near the Union County-Hopkins County line in that part of Hopkins County that became Webster County.

From available records it can be reasonably assumed that Robert, Samuel and Isaac Johnson were younger than John and older than James and Benjamin. It also appears that Robert, Samuel and Isaac may have left Hopkins County between 1820-1822, probably going to Illinois or other points west. Though other Johnson families came to Hopkins County, this record will be confined to John, James and Benjamin Johnson. They may have been brothers and it is known they were closely related to other Webster County families from North Carolina who helped form the earliest history of the county.

Sarah had a considerable amount of property. Noah Nichols was a preacher in Raleigh, NC, and while traveling in Bertie County he met and married Sarah. About 1808-9 Noah Nichols, his family, his brothers, William, Nathaniel and Eli, left North Carolina and came to Kentucky. The younger brother, Reddick, may have come later. There were 50 or 60 people in the party, including James, Irwin and Thomas Price. They came afoot or on two-wheeled one-horse carts except for Noah Nichols, who had a large wagon. They located at Lewistown, Caldwell Co., Ky., and after a year, Noah Nichols and the Prices came into what was then Hopkins County and settled near Shiloh. He had bought 200 acres between Dawson Springs and Princeton and had a grist mill, which he sold in 1809, when he moved to Hopkins County. He built a large frame house near the intersection of the Henderson-Princeton and Madisonville-Morganfield roads. It was built by James Rice, a cabinet maker and carpenter, and had the first glass windows with frames 8 x 10 feet in the community. Dr. Francis Jett, the first physician in the area, boarded at Noah Nichol's home. Hopkins County records show that in 1818 he applied for a license to operate a tavern in his home. He was a large land owner and a wealthy man for his day. Noah and Sarah had 4 daughters.

PAYNE

Cornelius Payne (c1788 Va-Sep 1876 Ky) m 1817 Louisa Ann Walton (c1801 Va- Ky), dau of William Walton and Sally Ward. The marriage license was issued on 30 Aug 1817 in Pittsylvania Co., Va, with Jesse Walton as Surety and William Walton, father of the bride, signing the certificate. The marriage was performed on 1 Sep 1817 by Rev. Wm. Blair, a Baptist minister. Cornelius Payne was a merchant and Baptist minister and Louisa Ann Walton was a governess. About 1820 they moved to Maury Co., Tn, where Cornelius taught school and farmed. Later they moved to Logan Co., Ky. They may have spent some time in Bedford Co., Tn, and Todd Co., Ky. They moved to Hopkins Co., Ky, where they bought a farm near Nebo and lived there 14 years and then bought another farm in the same area. A family legend tells that Louisa Ann returned to Virginia to visit her mother and was given $500 in gold to buy a farm in Ky. She brought it back in her bosom and thought the pain she suffered the remainder of her life resulted from the weight of the heavy gold and the jolting of the wagon. The Waltons of Virginia were said to have had a large plantation and 400 slaves. Cornelius served in the War of 1812. Both Cornelius & Louisa Ann died 19 Sep 1876 and were buried together.

STOUT

John Stout m Elizabeth Bee of Burton Joyce Parish, Nottinghamshire, Eng. on 13 Nov 1609. They had a son, Richard.

Richard Stout (1615-1705) m c1644 Penelope Kent Von Princis (1622-1732). He had an argument about a girl with his father and ran away from home. He either joined or was pressed into service in the British Navy and served seven years. He left ship at New Amsterdam and bore arms for Netherlands and became a Dutch subject. He was not charged as a deserter when the British took New Amsterdam. In 1643 he owned plantation 18 at Gravesend. In 1664. With 11 others, he patented a large section of New Jersey near Monmouth. In 1667 he held lot 6 and upland country at Middletown. In 1669 he was an overseer. He deeded 1800 acres to his heirs. In 1677 he received 745 acres by patent. His will proved 23 Oct 1705 at Perth Amboy, NJ.

Penelope Kent (or Lent) was born of English parents in Amsterdam, Holland, who may have gone there for religious reasons. She married a Hollander, Von Princis (or Von Princin), and their ship was wrecked off Sandy Hook. He was ill and was taken ashore, where most of the party was massacred by Indians. He was killed and Penelope was left for dead with her head scalped, her left arm mangled and useless, and her abdomen laid open so she had to hold her intestines with her hand. When she revived she sought refuge in a tree where she stayed about a week. She either decided to give herself up to end her suffering or was discovered by an Indian's dog. The Indian decided to try to nurse her back to health and ransom her to the people of New Amsterdam. Her wounds were sewn with fishbone needles and vegetable fibers. After her marriage to Richard Stout, it was her idea to obtain land from the Indians and settle New Jersey, so they went to the Indians she had known during her recovery. Mr. Alexr R. Givens Dear Nephew:

I received your kind letter of July 24th a few days since which gave me great satisfaxtion to think that you had not forgot your old uncles in this distant land and likewise to hear that you and my old brother and sister were all in the land of the living and in reasonable health at this time for nothing in this life gives me more satisfaction than to hear of them doing well. I would just let you know that me and my small family are in reasonable health at this time, thanks to the Great Giver of all Good for his mercies unto us. I'm in hopes that these few lines may find you in that happy state of health. My children are all well as far as I know. My sons Thomas and William moved to Missouri some three or four years since and I heard from them not long since. They were well and doing well. They live in Sherrenton ((Chariton)) County. The seat of Justice is Ketesville. If you wish to write them direct your letters there.

You let me know in your letter that you had rec'd tenants in my house and from some of them you expected you would get but little. Dear friend if there is any more than will keep the buildings in repair please collect and send it to me. If you have a good opportunity send it by hand and if I can hear of any one that I can depend on I will send an order to you by him. I don't want to send it by mail for I think it is a very uncertain way of conveying money. If you think there is any prospect of the place improving you may not sell it, but if not I want you to sell it to the best advantage you can or what it will bring and if a good opportunity offers please send it to me.

You let me know in your letter that you expected to be in this country this fall come a year and nothing would give me more satisfaction than to see my most esteemed nephew once more in my poor cottage and if you can get that part republic business fixd and if there is not a good opportunity of sending it to me before you come will you be so kind as to bring the money with you. My son Nathaniel sends his best regards to you and wishes you to call here and he will go with you to the Arkansaw. Sir when you land at the Red Banks inquire for Providence in Hopkins County. I live about two miles from that place.

Your Uncle William Givens lives at his old plantation with two of his children, John and Sally. Both deaf and dumb. Both very sensible. He is very lonesome, but blessed with good health and is very stout for a man of his age, 76. He can ride and look after things and he joins with me in our best respects to your brother James and sister Polly and all inquiring friends and accept the same for yourself. I am Dear Sir, Your affectionate Uncle, etc.

Thos. Givens

P.S. Please write me when you receive this and as often as you can make it convenient and I will do the same as long as I am able.

As above,

T. G.

Mr.

Our election has allmost drawn to a close and the prospects are quite gloomy. I am very doubtful our man Ramsey is going to get beat, but there is one consolation if he does we will not be deprived from going to see the girls if we are defeated in having our measures carried out. The camp meeting commences on Friday next and I want to see you here then and bring Miss Savage and F & E Givens. I was very much pleased at having the pleasure of their company and hope again to have it so soon as I can make it convenient. Doc, I think a great deal of those girls and might say and tell the truth that I love them. Tell them I want them to come up at the Camp meeting and if they don't they will see me down there shortly. I expect to be down after the camp meeting. I send this letter by your Father and want you to write to me as he returned. Give my love for certain it is to Miss Savage to Miss F & E Givens and do all you can for me in that part and I will forever be your friend.

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 12th, 1854

My dear Nephew:

I rec'd your kind letter yesterday with a great deal of heart felt pleasure, and that pleasure is very much heightened by the fact that you are the first of my brother's children that has written me a letter without my first writing to them. My health has not been good for three or four years.

I have been troubled for that length of time with cold feet even in the very hottest weather, and a swimming in the head, but have appeared to be somewhat better for several weeks. I have been (as you have no doubt heard) very unfortunate with my family.

Since I came to this country having lost your Aunt, your cousin William, and your cousin Elizabeth Pearl -- and your cousin Susan, now Susan Niblick, has been lying with rheumatism for some four or five years. She has not walked a step, and for a long time she has not been able to move any part of her, anymore than if she had never moved, not even a finger. She lies in a hammock and everything she eats is fed to her like feeding a baby. She suffers indescribably everyday, in fact almost every minute. We have sat up with her every night for the last five or six months.

Amos has had chills all the Fall and Winter with some short interruptions.

The other children that are here are in common health. Elijah has gone to Bracken County and so has Mr. Pearl, Elizabeth's widowed husband. He took his children and went back last fall to his mother. Amos lives two miles from me, James 20 miles, Susan 5 miles, Emily lives with me, Jane 3 miles.

I have not rec'd a letter from any of your family since I have been in this country. About 3 years ago I saw a letter from your brother William in which he requested my son James to tell me to write to him a letter of my own inditing. In compliance with that request I wrote him a lengthy letter giving him a brief history of my family from the time I came to this country but I regret that I have not rec'd any from him since.

A young man from our County (Mr. Ashby) informed me that he fell in company with your mother last Spring and brought me a very satisfactory account of your family.

I wrote to her shortly after he returned but have not rec'd an answer from her since. I regret exceedingly that it was not convenient for you to visit us before returning to Missouri but would request that you would correspond with me and my family by letter and visit us as early as practicable. Tell your mother and brothers and sisters to write to me and my children, and visit us if it is possible they can, as persons as nearly related as we are should not neglect a practice through which there is so much pleasure to be derived, and that is so completely in our power.

Your Uncle
Affectionately
John Bassett

(The above letter was addressed to Dr. Samuel Taylor Stout Bassett, Louisville University (Med. Dept.), Louisville, Ky. Dr. Bassett was taking an advanced course in surgery.)

At Home Mar 20 1855

Dear Children:

It is a source of inexpressible gratitude to me to think that I am once more permitted to write to you and the more to, when I think that in all probability this may be the last that I shall ever be permitted to write, though I hope that it may be otherwise. I say that it may be the last for you well know my feeble condition and in addition to that I am becoming advanced in age. I have already lived my three score and one years. Consequently I could not expect to live much longer, even were I in the enjoyment of health. Considering my age and many infirmities and seeing that we are so far separated it is hardly reasonable to suppose that we will ever again be permitted to meet this side of Eternity. But then I shall ever hope and expect to meet you. You are both doubtless well apprised of the great importance of being prepared to meet death knowing that He is no respector of persons, falling not only upon the old, but upon the middle aged and even young. Knowing this fact you will not only be prepared for death yourselves, but will impress its importance upon your children also. You should be very careful to instruct your children in the principles of morality & Religion so that they may be our amounts to your family, to society & useful in the hands of the Lord.

You are living in a country where more than ordinary care should be taken of the morals of children. And you may be assured of being doubly compensated in after life for this attention which you bestow upon your children in infancy.

We would be exceeding glad to see you all again, but entertain little hopes of ever so doing. Notwithstanding we are so far separated and have almost --- of ever seeing you again. You must think not that our affections for you are by any means weakened or obliterated. We ever expect to cherish those affections for you which parents alone can cherish for their children.

My general health is as good as usual for this season, though I am poorer than I have ever been in my life. Your Mother's health is good. The health of the family is good also.

Matthew is at home for the present. Helen is still going to school at Princeton. We heard from Eleazer and Martha a few days since. All were well. Judith and Artimissa, each have a fine daughter.

We received your minature from Mrs. Hodge. We prize it very highly. We will try and get ours taken & send them to you this summer. We make you a present of this Medical work. Times are very hard. Many poor people are bound to suffer. Corn is worth one dollar here and many places it is light. But as the Lord would have it we made a better crop last year than usual.

Write to us when you receive this.

As ever your affectionate
father and mother

Dear daught I received a letter from you week before last and would have replied sooner but we had no mail last week I do not know whether I can compose myself now enough to write but I will try well in the place we are all tolerable well except the baby is not very well and Henry has been complaining all spring he is not able to work on the farm atall we have sickness death and other troubles of various kinds Judith Givens died last night I have been out there today Aunt Becky is very low I don't think she can live many days longer youraunt Anna and Betsey are both in very bad health I sent for Anna and she came down and stayed a week with us I think she improved some while she was here daught, you cant think how much we all want to see you and I am tempted to send and bring you home if I thought your Father would agree to it I was very much disappointed in not getting A letter from you this week as it was the time for me to get one though Macie received one and I got to hear from you I think it very strange that you do not receive our letters we have written to you four or five times since your father was up there and still you complain of our not writing

I have been the busyest creature you ever saw this spring I have made an hundred yards of cloth and have it nearly made up the children are going to school now we have A new teacher Miss elder A neice of Uncle Bucks they like her very well daught we have distressing times here now provisions of every kind are very scarce a great many people have not an ear of corn and we will not have any very long for it seems that the soldiers are determined to take the last we have there are scouting parties on both sides through here every few days they have met twice and had skirmishes one of sally Hills sons was killed last week in the fight he was in the federal army so you see our troubles are beginning I am affraid that times will be so bad that you cant get home when the sessions is out but your father tries to persuade me there is no danger and I am in hopes so I have been trying to get your dress but I cant find anything here that I like but dont be uneasy I will get you one before the examination I wish you had told me how you wanted it made though I recon I can guess how to please you

I have not heard from your aunt Cecil in A long time I think she might write to me I get almost in the notion sometimes of going out there but something turns up in A few hours that puts me clear out of it I will have to close my letter I cannot see how to write any longer my eyes are very weak this spring your aunt Betsey told me give her love to you and tell you she should write to you if she was able you father received A letter from you but has not answered it he has so much to attend to you know he has not had time to write you must write often and study well and and the time will soon come for you to be at home with us again your Father and the children join me in love to you and may the lord protect and direct you is the prayer of your affectionate

October 15, 1958

Dear Mrs. Bassett:

I have been informed that you will celebrate your 100th birthday on October 29th, that you are a native of Kentucky and that you are acquainted with the Long Run Baptist Church in Shelby County.

My grandfathers and grandmothers on both sides of the family were connected with that church.

You seem to have had the same kind of experience during the War between the States that my mother had. She saw her home destroyed and livestock and other property stolen, and she never forgot it. In fact, she died "unreconstructed."

I sincerely hope that you will have many more happy birthdays.
